Overview

All eyes are currently on ESG and its role within risk management, especially how the importance of governance and the impact of ESG matters to an organisation.

This course considers the expectations of corporate stakeholders and the reporting obligations, seeing how these are developing and identifying successful actions that are being taken by firms to meet these challenges.

Who should attend

The ESG Officer and ESG Manager and ESG Impact Analyst roles and all senior management and staff within an organisation with an interest or an obligation to implement or manage ESG frameworks, policies and protocols and monitoring.

Course Information

What Does It Cover?

What other firms are doing well, changes in reporting, the role of senior management, due diligence, risk management policies, governance structures, who 'owns' ESG in the organisation?, detailed environmental risks and mitigation, detailed social risks and mitigation, governance issues around conduct risk, reputational and enterprise risk, preparing the risk register, reporting and monitoring and much more.

Learning Objectives

Delegates will achieve a thorough understanding of ESG risk management including

- ESG Risk drivers
