

Investing in Communities

Risk Reward is comprised of international banking and finance services experts from a wide and varied career and personal backgrounds. Many have lived and worked in what are today referred to as emerging markets since childhood and return there as career professionals today.

Our directors and executives understand the value of investing within not only their local and immediate community, but into the wider global community. At a individual level the company's senior management offers real support which is consistently given to those Risk Reward team members actively participating in Charity organizations and charitable events; sponsored runs for Crisis and Cancer Research is a regular occurrence for employees and Young Chamber events as members of the London Chamber of Commerce and Industry International Trade Group interacting with inner city school children toward careers in business, trade and finance globally.

More specifically, Risk Reward has been consistently involved with Save the Children on a variety of separate projects since October 2010. This has encompassed initially providing the organization with our consultants to improve/aid their risk management structure; to working on training videos and recordings for the use of Save the Children's country managers; furthermore assisting in restructuring their treasury function.

Last but not least, every year we contribute to fund the Lynedoch Development Crèche charity programme. The Lynedoch Development Crèche is situated in the Lynedoch Eco Village just outside of Stellenbosch, South Africa. The children who come to the crèche are mainly from the families of local farm workers. The Lynedoch early learning approach strives to create space for 45 preschoolers and 6 babies for healing, sustainable living, play and joy through accredited staff, a beautiful learning environment and a place for being.
