
Expert Profile: Derek Carmichael

Derek is a Chartered Accountant with over 20 years of international experience and expertise, working with firms to enhance and implement their knowledge and practice of international financial reporting standards. His career has developed with 2 of the Big 4 Accountancy firms (Deloitte, NY, USA) in the UK until his recent consultancy work in Cyprus (2017 - present).

2004 to 2017: PricewaterhouseCoopers, London, United Kingdom

- Audit manager in charge of financial statement
- and internal controls audits of SEC-listed clients in the Utilities industry
- Senior Manager in the Central team of Global
- Accounting Consulting Services in London, the Centre of Financial reporting expertise on IFRSs for the PWC network of firms.
- Advised large global listed companies on complex accounting issues. Specialisms in consolidation and financial instruments.
- Co-authored PWC's industry-specific accounting manual 'Financial reporting in the oil and gas industry' and other thought leadership on the impact of new IFRSs on the industry.

He holds an advanced qualification and degree in Accountancy and is a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of University of Strathclyde: BA Business School Scotland (ICAS) since 1998.

Derek has been an engaging and widely admired commercial trainer with Risk Reward Ltd since 2019.

Expert Profile: Matthew Tilling CPA

Matt Tilling CPA has had a career focused around the international accounting standards (IFRS Standards). He spent nearly 20 years in Australia as an academic (including Head of Accounting at the University of Notre Dame, Australia) and in the profession (including Senior Manager at BDO, Australia).

During this time Matt wrote a number of textbooks and many academic papers on accounting. Matt then moved to the UK to join the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) as both Director of Education and a member of technical staff.

In these roles he supported the implementation of IFRS Standards around the world and was part of the IFRS 13 post-implementation review.

More recently he has been undertaking various projects including lecturing at Cambridge University, supporting Myanmar's transition to IFRS accounting standards, developing online learning for African accountants and consulting and training on IFRS Standards.

Matt has been a well-respected and admired commercial trainer with Risk Reward Ltd since 2019.

PARTNER IN LEARNING

